The European Anti-Fraud Office (OLAF) is expanding its digital presence by joining Bluesky. This new channel will allow OLAF to further engage with the public, share insights into its work and promote fraud prevention across the European Union and beyond.

OLAF is already active on LinkedIn and has its own website. By joining Bluesky, we aim to connect with a wider audience in an interactive environment. We look forward to engaging more with citizens, experts and institutions interested in protecting the EU's financial interests. You can follow us at euantifraud.bsky.social to stay informed and be part of the conversation.
